

Decisions Made Easy

Relational Reporting with Centricity® Practice Analytics

For successful management of today's healthcare organizations, access to timely and accurate information is critically important. Analytics provides administrators with an intuitive, flexible analytical tool to help manage this complex environment.

Analytic's easy-to-use interface simplifies the process of navigating through detailed data in order to isolate the information that will help organizations evaluate revenue, detect undesired utilization trends and investigate new business opportunities.

Transforms Transactional Data into Meaningful Business Information

- Extracts data into a series of organized subject categories that allow organizations to look at various aspects of their business
- "Slice and dice" and drill down capabilities to view any combination

Automatically loads Centricity Data

- Automatically loads extracted data sets into a relational database
- Utilizes multidimensional online analytical processing (OLAP) tools
- Presents data in an easy to use, familiar interface utilizing Microsoft Excel

Offers Extensive Reporting and Analysis Capability

- Simplifies navigating through enormous quantities of data to allow complex analyses on the desktop
- Eliminates the need for programmer assistance to analyze data

Requirements

- Installed on Centricity® Practice Management 2004 or higher
- Excel 2002, XP or 2003
- Analysis Server 2000 SP3A or SP4 (on SQL 2000 Media)
